an EnerSys company

13. Reason for Change Orders of standalone CXC HP controllers will now include a USB drive with the User Manual installed.  Providing a value-add item to the user allowing for quick access and the other features available in using a PDF reader. The delivery via a USB drive allows for unencumbered transfer of the manual with the additional usage of a storage device to support activities around the CXC HP controller's file management features.  Compliance to corporate policy on environmental and climate change responsibilities.
14.1 Description of Change The delivery of any system or package that includes a CXC HP controller will come with a USB drive which has the controller User Manual installed in PDF format.  Systems delivered will have both the USB drive with the pdf User Manual and a hard copy version for a period of two months from February 10, 2020. Beyond the two months period, only the PDF version of the User Manual in the USB drive will be delivered. At the end of the two months, the hardcopy version of the manual will be available for purchase using part number 0350058-J0. Contact your sales representative or email sales@alpha.ca . For clients who cannot utilize the supplied USB on their PCs, the Cordex HP Controller Software Manual along with all others, are available at alpha.ca .
