

PRESS RELEASE

THE ALPHA GROUP NAMED DIAMOND PATRON OF INTELEC® 2014 CONFERENCE

Vancouver, BC. September 5, 2014 – The Alpha Group is the Diamond Patron of the 36th Annual INTELEC® Conference on Energy for Communications. The annual INTELEC conference examines and analyzes the latest developments in communications energy systems and related power processing devices and circuits. The theme of the 2014 event is “Resilient Communications Energy for our Connected World.” It will take place September 28 – October 2 at the Vancouver Convention Centre in Vancouver, British Columbia.

In addition to Alpha’s selection as Diamond Patron, Chief Technology Officer Victor Goncalves will be one of the plenary speakers with a talk entitled, “Resilient Power Systems in Distributed Communications Networks.” Mr. Goncalves will be addressing the issue of power resiliency in both wireline and wireless broadband networks. Thirteen technical papers will be presented by Alpha’s engineers and scientists, with topics ranging from remote line powering to alternative batteries to Energy Management Systems that optimize energy savings. Alpha will also be displaying our broad array of power solutions in the exhibit hall.

“Our selection as the INTELEC Diamond Patron is another demonstration of Alpha’s leadership role in the telecommunications market,” said David Boroevich, Chief Marketing Officer. “Earlier this year, we were featured on the cover of OSP Magazine with an article titled, ‘The Ins and Outs of DAS Powering.’ Our thought leaders have been featured speakers in numerous industry conferences. And we have produced white papers and video series this year on subjects ranging from Distributed Antenna Systems (DAS) to line powering Fiber-to-the-Home networks. We look forward to our leadership role at INTELEC capping a tremendous year for Alpha.”
